The English Department offers Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts programs, minors in English and Linguistics, and certificates in Teaching English as a Second Language and in Technical and Professional Communication. Additionally, in cooperation with the School of Education, the department prepares undergraduates and graduates for careers in secondary school teaching. Finally, the English Department provides a wide array of general education courses in composition, literature, film, and creative writing.

An English major or minor is valuable preparation for any career in which critical thinking, nuanced analysis, and clear communication are essential. Many of our majors pursue graduate study in English, education, creative writing, or law; the major provides an excellent foundation for all of these fields. First and foremost, however, students of English are humanists, deeply concerned about the welfare of others. Through imaginatively inhabiting the worlds writers create, English students gain empathy, respect, and perspective, habits of mind that will benefit them throughout their lives.

Certificate Programs

Teaching English as a Second Language (TESL)

The TESL certificate program provides individuals with specialized training to teach successfully in a wide variety of ESL programs. Both undergraduate and graduate students currently enrolled in any degree program at Cal Poly may pursue this certificate.

The 30-unit TESL program provides a solid background in theoretical and applied linguistics, cross-cultural communication, second language acquisition, and methods of TESL. The program is designed for two career options:

1. The Post-Secondary/Adult option prepares individuals to teach ESL in college level and adult education programs. Those wishing to teach at the college level are advised that an MA in English or a related field is the usual minimum requirement for full-time positions.
2. The K-12 option prepares individuals having a single or multiple subject credential to teach ESL in elementary and secondary schools.

Technical Communication

Commercial, academic and governmental organizations employ technical and professional communicators as writers, editors, public relations experts, information designers, documentation and project managers, and as mixed media creators. The technical and professional communicator is, first and foremost, an accomplished writer who produces clear, precise, timely, and effective prose. However, technical communicators also are adept at designing information layouts, integrating images with text, working in teams, translating technical concepts for diverse audiences, and engaging with users to ensure the usability of documents. Individuals interested in technical and professional communication enjoy the process of continually learning and sharing information with others.

Undergraduate Programs

BA English

The curriculum for the Bachelor of Arts in English offers students both structure and freedom of choice. Students take a required course in world literature and one in linguistics, along with an introduction to literary studies and a six-course sequence of British and American literature. The other eight English courses are chosen by the student and can include creative writing, literature, film, linguistics, composition/rhetoric, and technical and professional communications. A Senior Project in the student’s field of interest provides the capstone to the English major.

English majors must also demonstrate intermediate-level proficiency in a language other than English. Cal Poly offers intermediate-level instruction in several languages. We encourage majors to study abroad, and many students choose to complete their language requirement in another country.

Though the core of the major is literature, students may choose an emphasis in fiction- or poetry-writing. The emphasis consists of one introductory workshop, two advanced workshops, one upper-division course in modern or contemporary literature in the student’s chosen genre, and the senior project in that genre.

English Minor

An English minor complements any major, adding richness and depth to students’ educations. The curriculum boasts literature courses to help students cultivate empathy and insight; writing courses to help students practice essential communication skills; and linguistics courses to provide an understanding of the nature and power of language. Students interested in pursuing an English minor should meet with the minor advisor to review the requirements.

Linguistics Minor

Cal Poly’s English Department offers a range of linguistics and applied linguistics courses designed for the beginning linguist or the non-linguist. Linguistics, the science of language, studies our mental capacity to produce and comprehend language, the varied patterns that the world’s languages use to express meaning, and the natural facts of diversity and change within and across languages. Applied linguistics in our Department includes teaching English to speakers of other languages, applications of linguistics in the K-12 language arts classroom, history of English, language and gender, and other varied topics.

Linguistics enriches the English major’s understanding of and appreciation for English and other languages, not just by acquainting them with the structure of English, but also by exploding popular myths which often lead to ill-informed personal or policy judgments.

Study of linguistics can be useful as preparation for a variety of occupations: teaching language arts, English, or other languages; working in journalism or editing and publishing; and a variety of applications in computer-mediated uses of language.
Master of Arts Degree in English

General Characteristics
This program includes the study of literature, literary criticism, linguistics, and theory of composition. It is designed to provide students with the knowledge and command of English that prepares them specifically for:

- teaching English at the secondary or community college level;
- further graduate work at other institutions;
- employment in business, industry, and government service where effective communication skills are demanded;
- self-directed development in writing.

Prerequisites
Students admitted to the English MA Program must have a bachelor’s degree from an accredited institution (or the equivalent, as determined by the English Graduate Committee), have maintained a grade point average of 3.0 for the last 90 quarter units (60 semester units), and a writing sample. Non-native speakers should also submit TOEFL scores (Test of English as a Foreign Language). At the discretion of the graduate coordinator, students without an English major or minor may be admitted conditionally, requiring them to take certain prerequisites prior to taking English graduate classes. The prerequisites required of conditionally-admitted students will be limited to 12 units or fewer.

Program of Study
- 46 units of graduate work approved by the English Graduate Coordinator and the Graduate Committee;
- a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 or better in all courses taken subsequent to admission;
- completion of a graduate project (ENGL 598).

Students elect an emphasis within the Master of Arts program: literature, linguistics, or composition.

Application
Application for admission and requests for further information should be directed to the Admissions Office. All applications should include a writing sample (a critical essay) and three letters of recommendation.

Blended BA + MA English
The blended program provides motivated English majors with an accelerated route to the English MA, with simultaneous conferral of both bachelor’s and master’s degrees. The blended program allows students to fulfill the baccalaureate program’s learning objectives and then transition seamlessly into graduate coursework.

Eligibility
Students majoring in English may be eligible to pursue the blended program toward the English MA. Admission to the program will be based on prior academic performance and other measures of academic promise, with a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.25 and an English major GPA of 3.5 required. Students will be selected by the English Department Graduate Coordinator, in consultation with the English Graduate Committee. Please see Graduate Programs (http://catalog.calpoly.edu/graduateeducation/graduateandpostbaccalaureateadmissionrequirements) for eligibility criteria.

Program of Study
The typical student in the blended program will be able to complete the English BA and MA in five years. Students will complete the senior project by the conclusion of the 4th year and all of the BA degree requirements by the fall of the 5th year. The culminating experience for the English MA will be a supervised graduate project.
