Program Learning Objectives

The Spanish major program provides students opportunities to:

1. Learn to communicate effectively in Spanish and other target languages through speaking, listening, reading, and writing in authentic situations.
2. Develop communicative and intercultural competency so that they can work productively both as individuals and in collaboration with others.
3. Gain perspective on cultural and historical achievements in the target-language cultures as well as on relevant issues of diversity.
4. Cultivate awareness of ethical and professional perspectives that reflect linguistic and cultural heritage.
5. Think critically and creatively using Spanish and other target languages and negotiate meaning between the target language(s) and English.
6. Develop the life-long ability to evaluate ways in which language and culture provide perspective on the larger world of the arts, sciences, and technology.
